Douglas Niedt began his study of the guitar at age seven and polished his playing to gem-like brilliance through his studies at the Juilliard School, the Segovia Master Classes in Spain, and with Narciso Yepes, Christopher Parkening, Jorge Morel, and Oscar Ghiglia. At age seventeen, international recognition followed his first prize sweep of the first Chet Atkins International Guitar Competition in which three hundred guitarists were entered. At age twenty-one, Douglas made his New York debut in Carnegie Recital Hall. After his debut the New York Times declared, "There was no doubt that he was a gifted performer. His playing was highly colored, his pitch exact, his phrasing precise." Douglas has shared billing on concert series with such prestigious guitarists as Julian Bream, John Williams, and Christopher Parkening. Douglas was honored with a solo fellowship from the National Endowment for the Arts. He is chairman of the guitar department at the Conservatory of Music, University of Missouri, in Kansas City.

Mel Bay is proud to present, American virtuoso, Douglas Niedt.
